

Katherine Latshaw

Written by Rich Triblets
Sunday, 26 August 2012 23:53

Katherine Latshaw interned at Kirkus Reviews, Algonquin Books (twice!), and The Literary Group before graduating from The University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill with honors. She worked at packager and literary agency Stonesong, where she participated in every facet of book production, from sales to photo shoots to edits and design, before returning to The Literary Group in 2010 to agent. Her projects range widely and include actress Tia Mowry's humorous pregnancy manual Oh, Baby! (Penguin), church whistleblower Jocelyn Zichter's religious expose

I Fired God

(St. Martin's), and food truck pioneers Coolhaus's

Coolhaus Ice Cream Cookbook

(Houghton Mifflin). Katherine is open to all fiction and non-fiction submissions, excluding poetry and screenplays. Email her at klatshaw@theliterarygroup.com